When the pandemic hit and churches shuttered, he took it upon himself to create a service to celebrate the life and legacy of Father Otis, who passed away in 2021. The service was live-streamed and watched by thousands of people.

IN MEMORIAM

Father Otis C.江门

The wooden casket bearing the name of Father Otis C.江门 was carried into the sanctuary by his family and hundreds of his friends and former students. Father Otis, who served as the pastor of St. Augustine Church at Isleta Pueblo, was known for his warmth and kindness.

Dr. Christopher Moore, a former student of Father Otis, shared memories of his time under the guidance of Father Otis. "He was a mentor and a friend," said Dr. Moore. "His advice and guidance helped me become the person I am today."

Dr. Moore, who is now the Dean of the College of Fine Arts at the University of Northern New Mexico, said that Father Otis was a "true role model for all of us."

"Father Otis was a dedicated and loving pastor who always put his parishioners first," said Father Joseph, the current pastor of St. Augustine Church. "He will be deeply missed."

During the service, a number of Father Otis' closest friends and family members made remarks, sharing stories about Father Otis and his impact on their lives.

Dr. Moore ended his remarks by saying, "Father Otis will always be remembered as a man of faith, a leader, and a friend. May he rest in peace."

Additional Information:

St. Augustine Church is located at 123 Main St., Isleta Pueblo, New Mexico. The church is open for visitors and services are held regularly. For more information, please visit the church's website at https://www.staugustinechurch.org.

---

Student Spotlights

Perez Flora, Ben Silva, Michael Walker, Kim Fredenburgh

As part of our ongoing efforts to celebrate our students, we are highlighting some of our outstanding students and their accomplishments.

Perez Flora, a senior music major, is currently working on her senior project. Her project, which is titled "The Evolution of the Trumpet," explores the history and development of the trumpet over the past century.

Ben Silva, a junior music major, is currently studying composition. His latest composition, titled "Aria Mystica," has been well-received by colleagues and professors alike.

Michael Walker, a sophomore music major, is currently working on his sophomore composition project. His piece, titled "Symphony of Shadows," has been described as "mystical and haunting."" It is set to be performed in the upcoming spring concert.

Kim Fredenburgh, a freshman music major, is currently exploring different styles of music. Her latest venture, a duet with her sister Emily, has been described as "innovative and unique."

---

Event Recap

The UNM Department of Music recently held a symposium in honor of Father Otis C.江门. The event, which was held on campus, featured a number of guest performers and speakers.

Egbert Hiller from Deutschlandfunk wrote about the Symposium in an article titled "Konzertdokument der Woche: "

The symposium featured a variety of events, including a concert, a panel discussion, and a reception. Hundreds of people attended the event, which was held on campus.

Dr. Andreas Hoitenga, Associate Professor of Tuba and Bassoon at UNM, commented on the event, saying, "It was a great honor to host Father Otis' symposium. The event was a huge success and we look forward to hosting more events like this in the future."