Email

Email is the primary form of communication from the UNM String Lab School. Please make sure that you are getting emails from us! Add UNM String Lab School and Laurie Lopez (ljlopez@unm.edu) to your contacts, so that emails don't end up in your spam folder without you ever seeing them. If you are using a gmail account, emails from us may end up in your Promotions or Updates tab. Right mouse-click the email to move it to your Primary tab, and say "Yes" when you are asked about all future emails. If you have any questions, please email our Director, Laurie Lopez at ljlopez@unm.edu.

Bulletin Boards

Once we return to indoor instruction, current information will be posted on the bulletin boards. There is one upstairs on an easel in the lobby and one downstairs on the wall outside the String Pedagogy office. Check these regularly for updates and information!

Practice Help Desk

The Doctor is In! Stop by the help desk outside Popejoy on Saturdays between 9am and 10:45am to answer your questions and provide quick help for tuning, practice ideas, etc. The help desk will relocate to the Popejoy lobby when group classes are held indoors.

Social Media

The String Lab School periodically posts fun photos and opportunities on its social media accounts. Please note that String Lab School information is usually emailed to you, and may not be posted on social media. Follow us to see the String Lab School in action!

Website

Registration and general information is posted on our website music.unm.edu/community/lab-school/

Phone

All of our interns, coordinators and directors teach classes, teach lessons, take classes and perform themselves. Because we spend most of our time out working, we are not often in the office. We do check voicemail daily. To leave a voicemail for the UNM String Lab School, call (505) 277-1878.

Inclement Weather or Campus Closures

It is rare that the UNM String Lab School has to cancel group classes due to inclement weather. In the event this occurs, or the UNM campus is closed for an emergency, an email will be sent to you, and messages posted on social media at least one hour before the start of class. For morning classes, we will ask KOB and KOAT to add us to their cancellation lists. Unfortunately the UNM String Lab School is unable to reschedule group classes; fortunately we live in a very temperate climate and this has only happened once in the last twenty years!

August 17, 2021

Hi everyone!

Welcome back! We're so excited to make music with you in person this year.

In order to keep us all safe, we've made some changes to the String Lab School operations. As with most things these days, these will be constantly evolving, and I will keep you informed as the year progresses. Please make sure that you have the UNM String Lab School and Laurie Lopez (LJLopez@unm.edu) in your trusted contacts so that you don't miss updates from me.

To begin the school year, we will be holding group classes outdoors in the tents around the Center for Fine Arts (CFA), which houses Popejoy Hall. We will be using the outdoor spaces as long as the weather permits. UNM Minors on Campus policies are constantly under review by the Provost's office, but here are our current guidelines for the String Lab School:

- Masks are mandatory for all students and parents. Teachers are permitted to remove their masks when teaching outdoors as long as they maintain 6 ft from their closest student.
- Tents will be used for instruction as long as the weather permits.
- Social distancing will be enforced.
- Personal handwashing and hand sanitizing is encouraged—hand sanitizer will be available in all instructional spaces.
- Air purifiers will be used when instruction happens indoors.

Upon arrival, you'll see that I'll be stationed out in front of Popejoy Hall, where I'll be as long as we are using the outdoor instructional spaces. While group classes are outdoors, we ask that you only enter the building to use the bathroom. The Mad About Music Snack Bar will not be operating this school year.

Until further notice, noon recitals will be held outdoors (with string accompaniment only) on the lawn immediately north of the CFA and west of the Student Union Building (SUB) entrance.

Thank you all so much for your support as we navigate these tricky times together. I am so grateful to have the opportunity to make music together again this year and can't wait to see you and your families this weekend!

Laurie Lopez
Director, UNM String Lab School

Noon Recitals at the UNM String Lab School

Why do group classes perform in noon recitals?

Performing in groups provides students with the opportunity to prepare and share their music-making with peers. Group playing is a beneficial way to learn ensemble skills such as listening to one another, staying together, matching tone and style, increasing attention and self-discipline. These sorts of musical experiences pay off in the long run. Musicians who fiddle, play in orchestras, and chamber groups must possess these skills, developed to a higher level. Our group lessons and noon recitals hone those same skills, which can inspire and motivate children to push for personal improvement.

Why attend a noon recital?

"Watching others perform is as valuable as performing." This is a premise of any Suzuki program. Children learn patience, impulse control, respect for others, and a desire to play well. Noon recitals are a great way to listen to other students play the Suzuki repertoire. Check out the dates listed in this calendar and attend as many as you can.

Why stay for the whole recital?

As children learn to sit quietly and watch, they are learning impulse control and respect for others. At the same time, they are developing familiarity with the repertoire and a desire to learn it....more reasons for parents to arrange their schedules to remain at recitals until the last student has performed!

Why perform individually in a noon recital?

When students walk onto stage for their first "solo" they feel the support of the recital hosts, their private teacher, their peers and their parents. The audience is there to celebrate the efforts of the soloist – not to judge the outcomes. Sharing music is a natural progression from lessons and gives teachers and students an opportunity for self-reflection, evaluation and most importantly, links process to product.

Please note that group class noon recital performance dates are subject to change. Your group class teacher will notify you of changes, should there be any!

How do I sign my child up to play in a noon recital?

Your child's private teacher will help you choose a date, a polished piece to perform and will sign you up for the recital as well as a rehearsal slot on the morning of the performance.

Noon recitals outdoors!

Until further notice, noon recitals will be held outdoors (with string accompaniment only) on the lawn immediately north of the CFA and west of the SUB entrance.

Parking at the UNM String Lab School

Practice Help Desk

The Practice Help Desk is your one-stop shop for information about the UNM String Lab School! The Help Desk pops up from 9-10:45 a.m. every Saturday the String Lab School is in session. Our program coordinator, Laurie Lopez, is available to help you navigate the String Lab School, lessons, and practice at home.

Snack Bar

Due to UNM COVID protocols, the Mad About Music snack bar will be closed until further notice.

UNM String Lab School Facilities

The UNM String Lab School uses classrooms, recital halls, restrooms and outdoor spaces that belong to the University of New Mexico. As such, university policies apply.

- No use of wheels (bikes, scooters, skateboards, rollerblades/skates, heeies, etc) allowed in the building or around the outdoor instructional spaces.
- No shouting, running, playing tag, catch, or disruptive games in the building or around the outdoor instructional spaces
- No smoking on the university campus

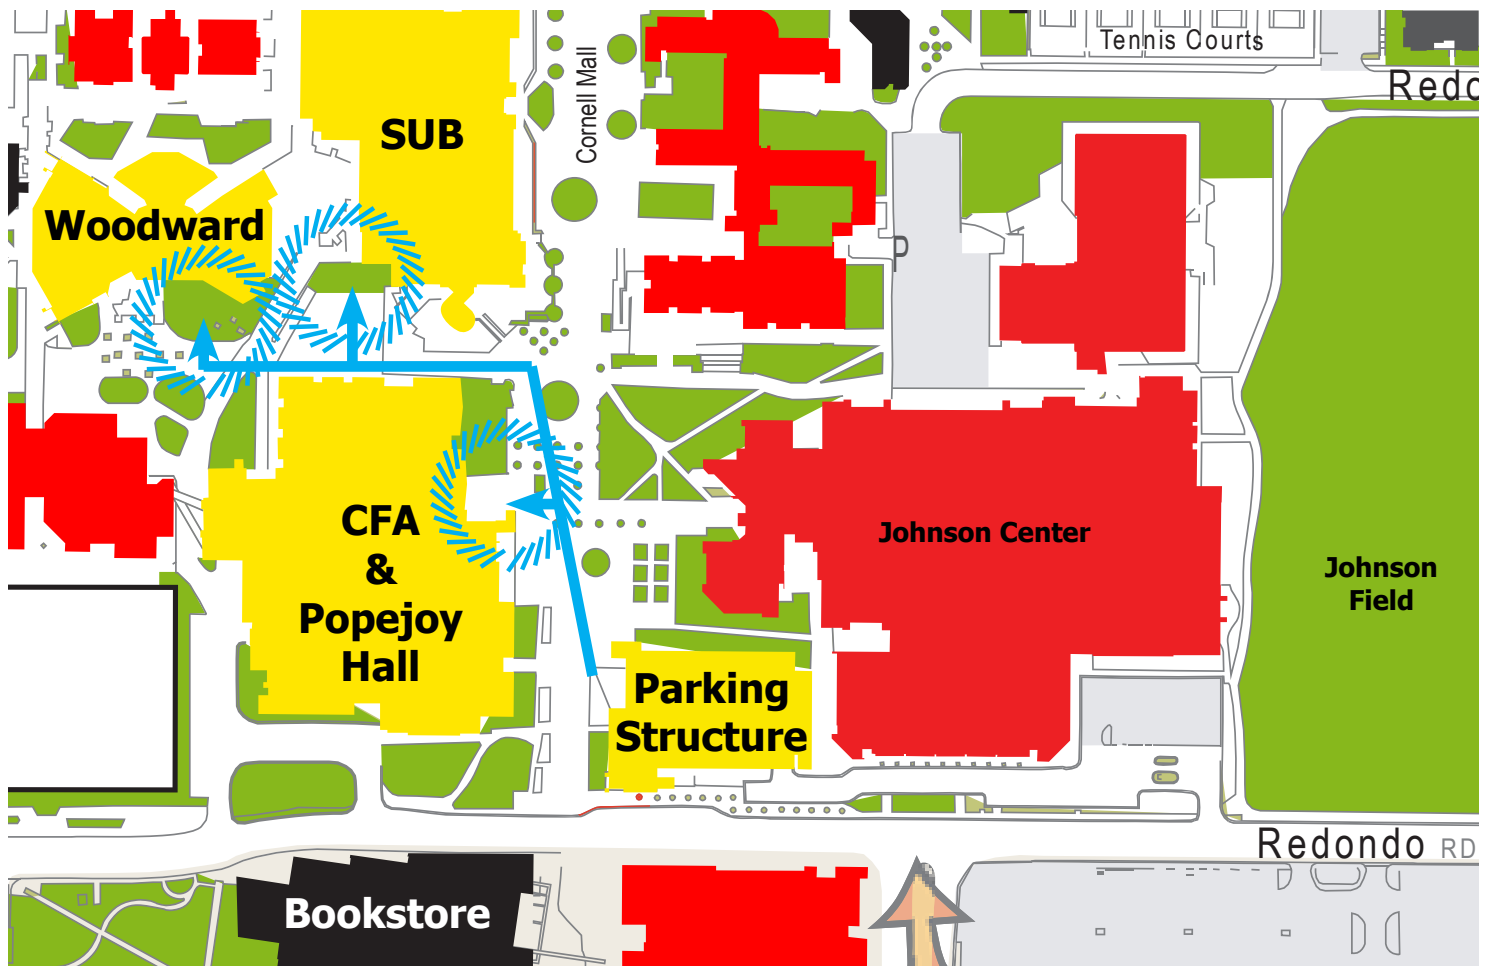

Other activities and classes are taking place in the building and outdoor spaces, so we are asked to be respectful. Please clean up after yourselves and your children in classrooms and sitting areas. Remove trash, erase chalkboard doodlings, and return chairs to original seating as appropriate. We don't want teachers and parents in the next class to have to clean up after you! If there is a spill, please clean it up.

Restrooms should also be left in good condition. The building is public, so please be aware that there may be other people in the building. If restrooms need attention, please let the String Lab School know so we can call a custodian.

Because campus is public, it is recommended that you stay with your child just to be safe.

Expectations for String Lab School Lessons

A. Parents and String Lab School Children

1. Because we are working with children in a very focused situation, private lessons are defined as follows:
  - a. Beginning lesson.....any length, not exceeding 30 minutes
  - b. Intermediate lesson.....any length, not exceeding 45 minutes
  - c. Advanced lesson.....any length, not exceeding 60 minutes
2. Please be punctual to all private lessons! UNM intern teachers are very busy and cannot be expected to give you extra time if you are late. Also, except in extreme emergencies, you are expected to attend all scheduled lessons. Lessons cancelled without 24- hour notice may be forfeited. Make up lessons will only be given if the miss was unavoidable—illness or emergency—and are scheduled within the current semester. If you have questions, please contact Laurie Lopez (ljlopez@unm.edu).
3. Before your child's private or lesson:
  - a. Review the week's assignments and the weekly preparations so your child feels confident going into the lesson.
  - b. See that your child has had a brief rest and a snack.
  - c. Make sure your child has gone to the bathroom, trimmed nails and washed hands.
4. The care and maintenance of the instruments and/or box and stick are your responsibility. Damage to either UNM instruments/boxes, or rented instruments can be costly and time consuming to repair.

Your UNM intern teacher will advise you when new strings, bow hair, etc., are needed. These are your responsibility and should be taken care of within the week. Robertson's Violin Shop on Carlisle is the best resource.
5. Parents must be present at all private lessons. No exceptions!
6. Parents are not required to attend group lessons, but are encouraged to attend. If you do not attend, please make arrangements with another parent to take your child to the bathroom, should the need arise. Children may not go to the bathroom alone, nor can String Lab School staff leave their duties to take your child. Please be very prompt in picking your child up at the end of class.
7. Parent's full attention will be required for each private lesson. Siblings must be quiet and unobtrusive during all lessons—both private and group. If they must attend, please bring appropriate quiet activities for them.
8. If you have to discuss something with your UNM intern teacher, do not wait until the end of the private lesson to bring it up, or the lesson following yours will be delayed.
9. Criticism of your child or the intern is not appropriate during lessons; please arrange a time to call, or email your intern to discuss problems at a separate time. In case of real difficulties, please contact Laurie Lopez (ljlopez@unm.edu).

A. Parents and String Lab School Children....continued

10. UNM interns are college students who have spent at least one year in the classroom preparing to teach your child. Lessons, both private and group, are under the supervision of the UNM pedagogy faculty, via lesson notes, videos and discussion in pedagogy classes. Your child's lesson may be videotaped as part of this process, but will only be shared with pedagogy faculty and will be deleted at the end of the semester.
11. All private lessons will be given on the UNM campus. No exceptions!

B. UNM Intern Teacher

1. Interns will be prompt for all scheduled lessons. Their instrument will be tuned, notes and materials will be ready and available and video equipment will be set up, cued, and ready to go before the lesson begins.
2. Interns must give 24 hours notice of changing or cancellation of any private lessons given in the UNM String Lab School. Emergencies will be handled on an individual basis, but with cell phones and email, interns and students should rarely, if ever, not show up to a scheduled lesson!
3. Intern teachers who miss more than one private lesson, are late to more than one lesson without a valid excuse, or are unprepared to teach your child, should be reported to Laurie Lopez (ljlopez@unm.edu). Interns receive grades which reflect their ability to arrive on time and be prepared for each lesson they teach.
4. Regular videos of private lessons will be required each semester. Video consultations are held each semester. Particulars on this assignment will be handed out in class. Cameras are available in the Pedagogy Room [B123] and can be checked out for this use. Lesson videotaped as part of this process will only be shared with pedagogy faculty and will be deleted at the end of the semester.
5. At the end of each semester, interns will fill out the short section on the UNM String Lab School Tracking Form for each of their String Lab School students.
6. Interns will teach in group and private lessons as assigned and will assist in all performances and/or activities of the UNM String Lab School Program.
7. All private lessons will be given on the UNM campus. No exceptions!
